

Golden Minerals Reports Second Quarter 2019 Results

GOLDEN, Colo., Aug. 07, 2019 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Golden Minerals Company ("Golden Minerals", "Golden" or the "Company") (NYSE American and TSX: AUMN) has released financial results and a business summary for the quarter ending June 30, 2019.

Sale of Velardeña Properties and Other Assets

On June 27, 2019 the Company announced it had entered into an agreement (the "Agreement") to sell certain of its assets to Compañía Minera Autlán S.A.B. de C.V. ("Autlán") for US$22.0 million. Upon execution of the Agreement, Autlán paid the Company a deposit of US$1.5 million, which will be applied against the purchase price upon closing. The Agreement provides for a period of up to 75 days for Autlán to conduct due diligence related to the assets, which include the Velardeña properties as well as the Santa Maria and Rodeo mining concessions. As a result of this Agreement, the results of operations for these assets, including the Velardeña properties and its related subsidiaries, are presented in the Company's second quarter financial statements as discontinued operations, assets held for sale and liabilities related to assets held for sale. Consequently, revenue and costs related to the lease of the Company's oxide mill at Velardeña are no longer itemized on the Company's income statement but are instead rolled up with other items into income from discontinued operations. Historical periods are presented in the same manner. Please see the June 27, 2019 news release and the Form 10-Q for the quarterly period ended June 30, 2019 (both available at www.goldenminerals.com) for complete information about the Autlán transaction which is expected to close near the end of the third quarter 2019, as well as related accounting changes.

Second Quarter Summary Financial Results

- Income from operations held for sale of $0.4 million in the second quarter 2019, compared to $0.3 million in the second quarter 2018. These figures include revenue of $2.0 million and $1.7 million, respectively, related to the lease of the Company's oxide plant. They also include net operating margins calculated as oxide plant lease revenue less lease costs of $1.4 million and $1.2 million for the quarters ended June 30, 2019 and June 30, 2018, respectively.
- Exploration expenses of $1.1 million in the second quarter 2019 compared to $0.9 million in the year ago period.
- El Quevar project expenses of $0.7 million in the current quarter compared to $0.3 million in the year ago period.
- Net loss of $2.5 million or $0.03 per share in the second quarter 2019, compared to a net loss of $1.7 million or $0.02 per share in the second quarter 2018.
- Cash and cash equivalents balance of $1.8 million as of June 30, 2019 compared to $2.9 million at year-end 2018.
- Subsequent event in July 2019 which added $2.0 million in cash through a registered direct offering of the Company's common stock.
- Debt balance of zero as of June 30, 2019.

Second Quarter Business Summary

- The Company continued an (approximately) 3,000-meter/$0.6 million drilling program at the El Quevar silver project in Salta province, Argentina during the second quarter 2019. This program was undertaken to help identify target areas for future drilling, with the ultimate goal of expanding the currently-defined resource at El Quevar. Drilling has now concluded and program results should be published within the current quarter once all assay data is available.

- In May 2019, Golden Minerals signed an earn-in agreement for the gold-silver Sand Canyon project in northwestern Nevada. Deal terms permit Golden to earn 60% interest in the project by spending $2.5 million in exploration expenses over four years. The project is located in a highly prospective area 18 miles northwest of the historic Sleeper Gold Mine that was operated by Amax Gold between 1986-1996. Golden has completed surface exploration activities on the project including mapping and geochemical sampling to identify drill targets.

Financial Results

The Company reported (all figures approximate) $0.4 million in income from discontinued operations during the second quarter 2019. This amount includes revenue of $2.0 million related to the oxide plant lease and costs of approximately $0.6 million related to the services Golden provides under the terms of the lease. It also includes $0.5 million in care and maintenance costs at the Velardeña properties, $0.2 million in exploration expenditures related to properties held for sale and $0.2 million in depreciation and amortization on properties held for sale. Other exploration expenses were $1.1 million in the second quarter, reflecting work at Sand Canyon, Santa Maria, Yoquivo and additional properties primarily in Mexico, as well as property holding costs and allocated administrative expenses. El Quevar project expenses were $0.7 million in the quarter and include costs associated with the drilling program begun in March 2019 as well as project evaluation and property holding costs. Administrative expenses of $1.0 million in the second quarter 2019 include costs associated with being a public company and are incurred primarily by the Company's corporate activities in support of the Company's portfolio of properties. Golden reported a net loss of $2.5 million or $0.03 per share in the second quarter 2019 compared to a net loss of $1.7 million or $0.02 per share in the year ago period. Golden also received $0.2 million in proceeds from the sale of common stock under the existing Lincoln Park Capital Commitment Purchase Agreement ("LPC Program") during the quarter.

Twelve Month Financial Outlook

The Company ended the second quarter 2019 with a cash balance of $1.8 million and received approximately $2.0 million, net of costs, related to the sale of approximately 8.6 million shares of Company common stock in July 2019. The Company also expects to receive approximately $1.3 million in net operating margin from the lease of Velardeña's oxide plant prior to closing the Autlán transaction near the end of the third quarter 2019. Additionally, the Company expects to receive the remaining $20.5 million purchase price from closing the proposed Autlán transaction near the end of the third quarter 2019. The Company's currently budgeted expenditures during the next 12 months ending June 30, 2020 are as follows:

- Approximately $3.0 million on exploration activities and property holding costs related to the Company's portfolio of exploration properties located in Mexico, Nevada and Argentina, including project assessment and evaluation costs related to Yoquivo, Sand Canyon and other properties;
- Approximately $0.5 million at the Velardeña properties for care and maintenance prior to closing of the Autlán transaction;
- Approximately $1.0 million at the El Quevar project to fund ongoing exploration and evaluation activities, care and maintenance and property holding costs; and
- Approximately $3.0 million on general and administrative costs.

If the Autlán transaction closes as anticipated near the end of the third quarter 2019, the Company's cash resources will greatly exceed its currently budgeted expenditures during the next 12 months ended June 30, 2020. Should the closing of the transaction not occur, the Company may be required to repay the US$1.5 million deposit and may need to take appropriate actions, which could include sales to parties other than Autlán of certain of the Company's exploration assets, reductions to the Company's currently budgeted level of spending, and/or raising additional equity capital through sales under its ongoing ATM or LPC programs.

Additional information regarding second quarter 2019 financial results may be found in the Company's 10-Q Quarterly Report which is available on the Golden Minerals website at www.goldenminerals.com.
